True Mason.

To the Right Hon.<sup>ble</sup> the Marquis of CARNARVON Grand Master, these four Plates are humbly Inscr<sup>ib</sup>ed.

Genius of Mason-ry descend In mystick Numbers while we sing

Enlarge Our Souls the Craft de--fend And hither all thy influence bring

With Social thoughts Our bosoms fill And give thy turn to ev'ry Will.

Immortal Science too, be near!
 (We own thy Empire o'er the Mind)
 Drest'd in thy radiant Robes appear,
 With all thy beauteous Train behind:
 Invention young, and blooming, there;
 Here Geometry, with Rule and Square.

United thus, and for these Ends,
 Let Scorn deride, & Envy rail;
 From Age to Age the Craft descends;
 And what We Build shall never fail;
 Nor shall the World Our Works survey;
 But ev'ry Brother keeps the Key.

The Forsaken Pastoralla.

Allegretto

the Music by M<sup>r</sup> Lampe

Glide gently on, thou murm'ring Brook, & sooth my tender Grief, 'Twas here the fatal Wound I took, 'tis here I seek Relief. With Silvio on this Verdant Shore, I fondly sat reclin'd, Be-liev'd of charming things he Swore too credu-lous--by kind, too cre--dulously kind.

While thus he said, this purling Stream
Back to its Spring shall flow,
O Pastorella! e'er my Flame
The least decay shall know.
Ye conscious Waves roll back again,
Back to your Crystal Head,
The false ungrateful perjurd Swain,
Has broke the Vows he made.
Has broke &c.

Perhaps some fairer Shepherdess,
His faithless Breast has warm'd,
And those kind Vows & soft Address
Her guiltless Heart has charm'd.
But tell ye Nymph thou gentle Stream,
If e'er she Visits Thee,
The treach'rous Youth has vow'd ye same
Yet broke his Faith with me.
Yet broke &c.

 absence may cure all my pain; This said from her charms I retir'd, Nor knew I till then how I

*Ah! why should I hope for relief,
 Where all y<sup>e</sup> I see is disdain,
 No pity in her for my grief,
 No merit in me to complain.*

*Nor yet do I fortune upbraid,
 Tho' rob'd of my freedom & ease,
 Still proud of the choice I have made,
 Tho' hopeless it ever can please.*

THE RESOLVE.

Since Sallinda's my Foe, to a Defart, I'll go, Where some River, for ever, shall echo my Woe. Since Sallinda's my Foe, to a Defart, I'll go, Where some River for ever, shall echo my Woe. The Trees shall appear, less severe than my Tear, In y<sup>e</sup> Morning adorning each Leaf with a Tear.

 To the Rocks all alone, —
 When I make mysad Moan,
 From each hollow, Will follow, —
 Some pitiful Groan; —
 With silent Disdain, —
 She requites all my Pain, —
 To my Mourning, Returning,
 No answer again. —

 Ah, Sallinda, adieu, —
 When I cease to pursue,
 You'll discover, No Lover,
 Was ever so true: —
 Your sad Shepherd flies,
 From those dear cruel Eyes,
 Which not seeing, His being,
 Decays, and he dies. —

 Yet 'tis better to Run, —
 To the Fate we can't shun,
 Than for ever, Endeavour,
 What cannot be won: —
 Gods! what have I done,
 That poor Stephen alone,
 Thus requited, Is slighted,
 For Loving but one. —

Lizzy.

To the Right Hon. the Earl POULET, These four Plates are humbly Inscr'd.

Thrice happy Lizzy, blooming Maid, By no false Arts of life betray'd, Blest Tenant of the rural scene; Whose joys un-mix'd n<sup>r</sup> pining
Care, n<sup>r</sup> prey up- on the marshy Fair, N<sup>r</sup> living comes, n<sup>r</sup> artless Smile, Does all her pleasing Toils be- guile, N<sup>r</sup> tripping o'er th' enameld Green.

Clarinda fair in Jewels drest, The Pride of Theatres confest, Still shines with irresist'le Mean: Tho' Music, Action, Words, conspires To wake her Soul to soft desires, Delight like this will quickly decay, And Lizzy tastes more perfect Joy, In tripping o'er th' enameld Green.	When Lindamira in the Dance, To sprightly Airs does swift advance, And graceful moves like Beauty's Queen; Tho' crowds of Beaux admiring gaze, Nor sickning Prudes refuse her praise, The stammer'd Belle's not half so blest, And Lizzy's of more Joys possess'd, In tripping o'er th' enameld Green.	When Coquette Cards invite, To while away y<sup>e</sup> social Night, And vanish far corroding spleen; Tho' chance indulgent to her will, Conveys each circling Deal, spadille, The sweets of gain are less refin'd, And softer Transports sooth y<sup>e</sup> Mind Of Lizzy when she trips y<sup>e</sup> Green..	Hail blissful life which Lizzy leads! Must bubbling Springs spruaght Meads, Just Emblem of the golden Mean: A life, n<sup>r</sup> fairest Virtus grac'd, Whose eb'ing Moments sweetly waste; Made doubtly joyous, cheerful, gay, When Lizzy crowns th' indulgent Day With tripping o'er th' enameld Green.

THE Beautys of Hampstead.

Summer's heat y<sup>e</sup> Town invades, All repair to cooling Shades;

How inviting, How delighting, Are the Hills and flow'ry Meads?

Here, where lovely Hampstead stands,
 And y<sup>e</sup> Neighbouring Vale commands;
 What surprising Prospects rising,
 All around adorn the Lands.

Here are Grottos, purling Streams,
 Shades defying Titans beams,
 Rosy Bowers, Fragrant Flowers,
 Lovers Wishes Poets Themes!

Here, ever woody Mounts arise;
 There, verdant Lawns delight our Eyes;
 Where Thames wanders, In Meanders,
 Lofty Domes approach the Skies.

Of the Chrystal babbling Well,
 Life & Strength the Current Swell
 Health & Pleasure, (Heavenly Treasure)
 Smiling here united dwell.

Here Nymphs & Swains indulge their Hearts,
 Share the Joys our Scenes imparts;
 Here be strangers, To all dangers;

 while the dull Miser, Esteems himself wiser, His Bags to increase, he his Health will decay, Our

All cheerful & hearty
 We set aside Party,

Eyes like tender. From thee with pain, I'm forc'd to goe; It breaks my heart that we should sunder:

Chain'd to thy charms, I cannot range,
 No beauty new, my love shall hinder;
 Nor time, nor place, shall ever change
 My vows, tho' we're oblig'd to sunder:
 The image of thy graceful Air, —
 And beauty, that invites our wonder;
 Thy ready wit, and prudence rare, —
 Shall e'er be present, tho' we sunder.

Dear Nymph, believe thy swain in this
 You ne'er can find a heart that's kinder; —
 Then seal a promise, with a kiss, —
 Always to love me, tho' we sunder; —
 Ye Gods, take care of my dear Lass, —
 That as I leave her, I may find her; —
 When that blest time shall come to pass,
 We meet again, and never sunder. —

Chloe Admonished.

Set by M.<sup>r</sup> Howard.

Geo Bickham jun. del. sc.

Dear Chloe at-tend, to th' advice of a Friend, And for once be ad mo nish'd by me:

Before you en-gage To Wed with old Age, Think how Summer & Winter a-gree, think how sumer & winter agree.

To ancient a Fruit, —
 For want of a Root, —
 Is doom'd to a speedy decay;
 Youth might ripen your charms, —
 But old Age in young Arms,
 Is like Frosty Weather in May. —
 Believe me dear Maid, —
 When y' best Cards are play'd, —
 You seldom can meet with a Trump;
 And to help the Jest on, —
 When the Sucker is gone, —
 What a Plague would you do w.th a Pump!

Let Men of Threescore, —
 Think of Wedlock no more,
 They need not be fond of that Noose; —
 The Cripple that begs,
 Without any Legs,
 Can have no occasion for Shoes. —
 A Clock out of repair,
 Does but badly declare,
 The Hour of y<sup>e</sup> Day or the Night; —
 For unless my dear Love,
 The Pendulum move, —
 'T would be strange if the Clock should go right.

Tho' cold & raw y<sup>e</sup> North Wind blows,

That Joy with Pain be equal felt,

The Pensive Swain.

From the Spectator.

G. Bickham jun. sc.

My time O ye Muses was Happily spent, when I went with me where e- ver I went;
 Ten thousand sweet Pleasures I felt in my Breast, sure never fond Shepherd like Collin was blest:
 But now she is gone & has left me be hind, what a marvellous change on a sudden I find, when things were as fine as could possibly be, I thought 'twas the Spring but a-las! it was She.

With such a Companion to tend a few Sheep,
 To rise up and Play, or to lye down and Sleep,
 I was so good humour'd so chearful and gay,
 My Heart was as light as a Feather all day,
 But now I so cross and so peevish am grown,
 So strangely uneasy as never was known,
 My fair one is gone & my Joys are all drown'd,
 And my Heart - I am sure it weighs more y<sup>a</sup> Pound.

Will no pittying Power that hears me complain,
 Or cure my Disquiet, or soften my Pain?
 To be cur'd, thou must Collin thy Pasion remove;
 But what Swain is so silly to live without love?
 No Deity bid the dear Nymph to return,
 For neer was poor Shepherd so sadly forlorn
 Ah what shall I do? I shall die with despair,
 Take heed all ye Swains, how you love one so fair:

How brimful of Nothings is Life of a Beau, they've Nothing to think of they've Nothing to do, Nor they've Nothing to talk of for Nothing they know, Such such is the Life of a Beau, a Beau a Beau, Such such is the Life of a Beau.

For Nothing they rise but to draw is fresh Air,
Spend is Morning in Nothing but curling their Hair,
And do Nothing all Day but sing sante & stare,
Such, such is is Life of a Beau.

For Nothing they run to th' Assembly & Ball,
And for Nothing at Cards a fair Partner call;
For they still must be beastal who've Nothing at all,
Such, such is is Life of a Beau.

For Nothing at Night to is Playhouse they croud,
For to mind Nothing done there they always are proud,
But to bow, & to grin, & talk - Nothing aloud,
Such, such is is Life of a Beau.

For Nothing on Sundays at Church they appear,

Traquair.

Hear me ye Nymphs & ev-ry Swain I'll tell how Peg-gy Grieves me Tho' thus I languish and complain alas she ne'er believes me My Vows and sighs like si-lent Air un-heeded ne-ver mo-ve her At the bonny Bush a boon Traquair 'Twas there I first did loe her.

That Day she smild & made me glad
No Maid seem'd ever kinder
I thought my self y' luckiest Lad
So sweetly there to find her
I try'd to sooth my am'rous Flame
In Words y' I thought tender
If more there pass'd I'm not to blame
I meant not to offend her.

Yet now she scornful flies y' Plain
The fields we then frequented
If e'er we meet she shews disdain
She looks as ne'er acquainted
The bonny Bush bloom'd fair in May
Its sweets I'll ay remember
But now her Frowns make it decay
It fades as in December.

Ye rural Powers who hear my strains
Why thus should Peggy grieve me
Oh make her Partner in my Pains
Then let her Smiles relieve me
If not my Love will turn Despair
My Passion no more tender
I'll leave y' Bush aboon Traquair
To lonely Wilds I'll wander.
